Table of Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Chapter One
Introduction: Program Design and Implementation 1
A History of the Experiential Outdoor Education Program 2
Westward Bound Expedition Closing Circle, June 2006 14

Chapter Two
Heading West: Hands-on Learning and Outdoor Education
Increases Student Motivation 18
Factors That Influenced Transformative Learning:
Hands-on Spontaneous Education 28
Factors That Influenced Transformative Learning:
Separation from "Normal" Life 36
Factors That Influenced Transformative Learning: Nature 37

Chapter Three
Restoring Community: The Impact of Restorative Justice Circles
on Student Feelings of Connectedness 49
School Connectedness 49
Restorative Justice Overview 53
Restorative Justice in Schools 54
The Origin of Peacemaking Circles 57
Philosophy of Circles 58
Components of a Talking Circle 60
Causes of School Disconnection 62
Circle Fosters Positive Student-Teacher Relationships 67
Circle Shifts Student Perceptions of Each Other 72
Shared Experience, Mutual Respect/Trust, and Relatedness 75
Connectedness 81
Additional Results of the Circle Experience 87
Healing and Circle 89

Chapter Four
Multicultural Education, Human Rights Education, and Teaching for Social Justice: Transforming Ideas about History, Racial Identity, and Service 93
Content Integration 97
Knowledge Construction—Transformational Learning via Wounded Knee 99
Prejudice Reduction—Racism and Circle 113
Equity Pedagogy 118
Culturally Relevant Practices 120
Human Rights Education 120
Social Justice in Education 127
Promoting Justice for Students 130

Afterword: Teacher as Transformative Learner 135

References 147

Index 159