

Schriftenreihe zum Gesellschafts- und Kapitalmarktrecht

Herausgegeben von Lutz Michalski (†),
Axel Jäger und Klaus-Rudolf Wagner

Band 43

Marion D. Hartmann

Shareholder Activism

Benefits and Drawbacks

Table of Contents

A) The thesis	1
I) Motivation	1
II) Aim, scope and method	1
1) Aim	1
2) Scope	2
3) Method	2
B) Introduction to shareholder activism	5
I) What is shareholder activism?	5
1) Definition of shareholder activism	5
2) Motivation to become active	6
3) History of shareholder activism	8
4) Actors of shareholder activism	11
5) Targeted firms	13
6) Strategies and means used by active shareholders	16
7) Criticism regarding active shareholders	17
II) Theoretical background of shareholder activism – legal and microeconomic	18
1) The concept of the firm	18
2) Authority allocation in the corporation	21
3) The purpose of the corporation	23
4) The corporate decision-making process	27
5) The separation of ownership and control in the corporation	27
III) Systemic differences for shareholder activism in the United States and Germany	29
1) Organizational authority allocation within the administration	29
2) Markets	32
a) Number of corporations	32
b) Corporate finance	32
c) Shareholder structures	33
3) Decision-making practice of the shareholder meeting	37
4) Politics	39
5) Labor interests according to German law	40
6) Relevant law levels	41
IV) Structure and initial thesis	41

C) Part I: Shareholder impact on nomination and election procedures	43
I) Introduction	43
1) Significance of nomination and election rights and procedures	43
2) Shareholder influence on the amendment of and design of rules-of-the-game decisions and rule design	45
a) Shareholder means to influence rule-of-the-game decisions	45
i) Under U.S.-American corporate law	45
ii) Under German corporate law	47
b) Designing corporate rules	47
3) Introducing hypothesis regarding the impact of active shareholders on nomination and election procedures	49
II) Shareholder impact on the nomination and election procedures under U.S.-American law	51
1) Introduction	51
2) Context of directorial nomination and election process	51
a) Removal of directors	51
b) Appointment and removal of executive officers	52
c) Practical relevance of nominating committees	53
3) Legal analysis of the four issues related to nomination and election procedures	53
a) A closer look at the four issues	53
b) Starting point mandatory shareholder proposals	54
c) Exclusion under Rule 14a-8(i)(1) SEA	55
i) Rule 14a-8(i)(1) SEA in general	56
ii) Mandatory bylaw amendment proposals under Rule 14a-8(i)(1) SEA	56
(1) SEC staff decisions	57
(2) Court decisions	59
(3) Legal scholars	61
(4) Functional counter arguments	62
(5) Recent developments	66
d) Exclusions under Rule 14a-8(i)(8) SEA	67
i) The proxy access rule	68
(1) Significance of proxy access rule	68
(a) Theoretical alternatives	68
(b) Significance of the shareholder nomination right	69
(c) Counterarguments	70
(2) Chronological legal evaluation of proxy access proposals ...	73
(3) Potential Rule 14a-11 SEA (2003)	75
(4) AFCSME v. AIG	76
(5) SEC's reaction to the Second Circuit decision	77
(6) Excursion: the internet age	79
(7) Recent developments	80

(a)	On Delaware state level	80
(b)	On federal administrative level	80
(c)	On federal legislative level	84
(d)	The final SEC move	85
(e)	The very final move on the issue	86
ii)	The majority-voting rule	86
(1)	The prevailing default rule of plurality voting	86
(2)	Voting options under the plurality-voting rule	87
(3)	Arguments in favor of the majority-voting rule	88
(4)	Counterarguments	88
(5)	Recent moves in favor of majority voting	91
iii)	The cumulative-voting rule	94
(1)	Arguments for and against cumulative voting	95
(2)	Rule-of-the-game level and rule design	99
III)	Preliminary results regarding shareholder impact on nomination and election procedures	100
IV)	Shareholder impact on nomination and election procedures under German law	102
1)	Context of supervisory board nomination and election	102
a)	Removal strategy regarding members of the supervisory board	103
b)	Composition of the management board	103
i)	Appointment strategy	103
ii)	Removal strategy	104
iii)	Impact on management composition in practice	105
2)	The legal analysis of the four issues	106
a)	Mandatory shareholder initiation of rule-of-the-game amendments	106
i)	Relevant rule-of-the-game levels	106
ii)	Mandatory shareholder initiation rights	106
iii)	Counterarguments on mandatory shareholder initiation rights	107
b)	Shareholder nomination right	109
i)	Status quo under German corporate law	109
ii)	Counterarguments on shareholder nomination right	111
c)	Absolute majority-voting rule	112
i)	Status quo under German corporate law	112
ii)	Counterarguments on majority-voting rule	113
d)	Cumulative-voting rule	113
i)	Permissibility of cumulative voting	114
ii)	Rule design proposal	117
V)	Final thesis regarding the shareholder impact on nomination and election procedures	117
1)	Conclusion regarding German corporate law	117

2) Comparing results with initial thesis	119
3) Transfer of experiences with nomination and election procedures	120
D) Part II: Transaction activism	125
I) Introduction	125
1) Definition of transaction activism	125
2) Corporate decision-making authority in the transaction context	126
3) Goals, directions and strategies of transaction activism	126
4) Means to pursue transaction activism	127
5) Potential and risks of transaction activism	127
6) Introducing hypothesis with regard to transaction activism	128
II) Transaction activism under U.S.-American law	130
1) Decision-making authority with regard to transactions	130
2) General formal shareholder means	130
3) Need of active shareholders to use informal means	134
4) Constellations of transaction activism	135
a) Transaction activism targeting corporate merger decisions	135
i) Special formal means for shareholders of surviving corporations	135
(1) Under corporate law	135
(2) Under securities law	140
ii) Transaction activism aiming to prevent a merger	141
(1) Underlying interests	141
(2) Relevant shareholder means	142
(3) Examples	143
(a) Mylan/King	143
(b) Pharmacopeia/Eos Biotechnology	146
iii) Transaction activism aiming to facilitate a merger	147
b) Transaction activism targeting corporate acquisition decisions	148
i) Special formal means for the acquiring company's shareholders	148
(1) Under corporate law	148
(2) Under securities law	149
ii) Transaction activism aiming to prevent an acquisition	150
(1) Underlying interests	150
(2) Relevant shareholder means	150
(3) Example	150
iii) Transaction activism aiming to facilitate an acquisition	152
c) Transaction activism targeting corporate divestiture decisions	153
i) Special formal means for shareholders of the divesting company	153
(1) Under corporate law	153
(2) Under Securities Law	153

ii) Transaction activism aiming to facilitate a divestiture	154
(1) Underlying interests	154
(2) Relevant shareholder means	154
(3) Examples	155
(a) Sears' divestitures	155
(b) Mirant's divestitures	158
iii) Transaction activism aiming to prevent a divestiture	159
5) Transaction activism and means, conflicts of interest, legal limitations and the underlying theory	159
a) General analysis of the means used for transaction activism	159
i) Categorization of means	159
ii) Means under different constellations of transaction activism	160
iii) The proxy rules and the opportunities to escape them	162
iv) Proxy rules in the context of transaction activism	165
(1) Testing the waters	166
(2) Pure pressure campaigns and "just-vote-no" campaigns	166
(a) Pure solicitations of consent	167
(b) Just-vote-no campaigns	169
(3) Pre-proxy campaigns and proxy contests	172
(a) Pre-proxy campaigns	173
(b) Proxy contests	174
v) Frequency and effectiveness of analyzed means	174
vi) Support from Delaware's courts	175
b) Potential conflicts of interest of active shareholders	176
i) Empty voting	177
ii) Hidden ownership	178
iii) Related non-host assets	179
iv) Lacking special regime	180
c) Constellations involving desirable transaction activism	181
d) Legal restrictions applicable to opportunistic transaction activism ...	183
i) Under securities law	184
(1) Proxy statement, § 14(a) SEA, Rule 14(a)-3(a) SEA	184
(2) Proxy antifraud rule 14a-9 SEA	184
(3) Beneficial ownership report, § 13(d) SEA	185
(a) Legal standard	185
(b) Group disclosure, Rule 13d-5(b) SEA	186
(c) Purpose disclosure, Schedule 13D item 4	187
(d) Deviating interests of active shareholders	188
(e) Remedies against violations of the section 13(d) SEA regime	191
(f) Practical relevance of section 13(d) SEA regime for active investors	192

(4) Short form beneficial ownership report, section 13(g) SEA	192
(5) Disclosure by institutional money managers, section 13(f) SEA	194
(6) General antifraud provision	194
(7) Regulation of fair disclosure	195
(8) Insider trading under section 10(b), Rule 10b-5 SEA	196
(9) Insider provisions, section 16 SEA	198
(10) Control person liability, section 20(a) SEA	199
(11) Reform intentions of the SEC	199
ii) Fiduciary duties under corporate law	200
(1) Status quo of shareholder fiduciary duties	200
(2) Proposed extension of fiduciary duties	204
iii) (More) Legal restraints and transaction activism constellations	207
e) Transaction activism and underlying corporate governance theories	207
III) Preliminary results regarding transaction activism	209
1) Means of active shareholders	209
2) Efficiency of existing legal limitations	210
3) Separation of transaction activism constellations	211
4) Transaction activism and underlying governance theories	212
IV) Transaction activism under German law	213
1) Authority distribution in the transaction context	213
2) General formal shareholder means	215
a) Initiation rights	215
b) Shareholder approval rights	219
c) Other shareholder rights	221
d) Capital markets law	222
3) Constellations of transaction activism	223
a) Transaction activism targeting corporate merger decisions	223
i) Special formal means for shareholders of surviving corporation	223
(1) Report based shareholder approval	223
(2) Legal proceeding with regard to a merger	224
(3) Shareholder participation in necessary financial measures	227
ii) Transaction activism aiming to prevent a merger	228
(1) Underlying interests	228
(2) Relevant shareholder means	228
(3) Example	230
iii) Transaction activism aiming to facilitate mergers	233
b) Targeting tender offer decisions	234

i)	Special formal means of shareholders of the acquiring company	234
(1)	Regarding general acquisitions	234
(2)	Regarding significant participation acquisitions	235
ii)	Transaction activism aiming to prevent an acquisition	242
(1)	Underlying interests	242
(2)	Relevant shareholder means	242
(3)	Example	243
iii)	Transaction activism aiming to facilitate an acquisition	246
c)	Targeting divestiture decisions	247
i)	Special formal means of shareholders of the divesting corporation	247
ii)	Transaction activism aiming to prevent a divestiture	249
iii)	Transaction activism aiming to facilitate a divestiture	250
(1)	Underlying interests	250
(2)	Relevant shareholder means	251
(3)	Example	251
4)	Transaction activism and targets, means, conflicts of interest, legal limitations and the underlying theory	256
a)	Transaction activism targets under German shareholder structure ...	256
b)	General analysis of means used for transaction activism	257
i)	Categorization of means	257
ii)	Relevance of formal and informal means	258
(1)	Formal means	258
(a)	Initiation rights	258
(b)	Direct impact	258
(i)	Fundamental transactions	258
(ii)	Transactions subject to Holzmüller/Gelatine	259
(iii)	Approval of capital measures	259
(c)	Indirect impact	260
(i)	Removal of supervisory board members, section 103 (1)	260
(ii)	Removal of management board members, section 84 (3)	261
(iii)	Special auditor, section 142	261
(iv)	Litigation, sections 147 et seq.	261
(2)	Informal means	262
iii)	Transaction activism constellations and shareholder means	262
c)	Constellations of desirable transaction activism	263
d)	Potential conflicts of interest	265
e)	Legal limitations for active shareholders	266
i)	Under corporate law	266
(1)	Impact on decision-making process	266

(a)	Abuse of rights, section 242 BGB	266
(b)	Fiduciary duty	270
(i)	General applicability to active shareholders	270
(ii)	Fiduciary duties and empty voting	274
(c)	Ban on damages under group law, sections 17, 311 AktG	276
(d)	Claim for damages, section 117 (1) AktG	277
(e)	Liability as shadow director	282
(f)	Immoral damage, section 826 BGB	283
(2)	Impact prior to decision-making process	283
(a)	Extra-institutional activities	284
(b)	Information and equal treatment	284
ii)	Capital markets law	286
(1)	Notification obligations, sections 21, 22 (1), (2), 25, 25a, 27a WpHG	286
(a)	Legal status quo	286
(b)	Hidden ownership	287
(i)	The notification regime prior to the AnsFuG	288
1.	Notification obligation under former section 25 WpHG	288
2.	Notification obligation under section 22 (1) sent. 1 No. 2 WpHG	291
3.	No notification under former regime, alternatives for new regime	298
(ii)	The legislative response, the AnsFuG	298
(iii)	European moves	301
(c)	Empty voting	302
(i)	Current notification regime	302
(ii)	Discussion on disclosure of empty voting	302
(iii)	Recent statutory provisions concerning short sales	303
(iv)	European moves	304
(d)	Related non-host assets	305
(2)	Acting in concert	305
(a)	Legal standard	305
(b)	Acting in concert and transaction activism	308
(c)	Acting in concert and conflicts of interest	310
(3)	Insider trading	310
(a)	Active shareholders and section 14 (1) WpHG	310
(i)	Purchase of shares to impact corporate strategy in a beneficial way	310
(ii)	Purchase of shares to pursue special interests	312

(iii) Sharing insider information with cooperating shareholders	312
(iv) Teleological approach and shareholder activism	313
(b) Administration and section 15 WpHG	314
(4) Ban of market manipulation, section 20a (1) WpHG	314
iii) Further legal restrictions	314
iv) Legal limitations and transaction activism constellations	315
(1) Disclosure of deviating interests	315
(2) Liability and transaction activism constellations	315
f) Transaction activism and underlying corporate governance theories	317
V) Final thesis regarding transaction activism	320
1) Means	320
a) Direct impact	320
b) Indirect impact	321
c) Informal means	321
2) Limitations relevant for active shareholders	322
a) Disclosure	322
b) Liability	323
3) Constellations of desirable transaction activism	323
4) Underlying corporate governance theories	324
E) Part III: Financial activism	325
I) Introduction	325
1) Underlying interests of actors involved in financial activism	325
2) Corporate financial measures	326
3) Means to impact corporate financial decisions	326
4) Firms targeted	326
5) Corporate modes to fund distributions	327
6) Concerns confronting financial activism	327
7) Introducing hypothesis	328
II) Financial activism under U.S.-American law	329
1) Authority distribution regarding corporate financial decisions	329
2) Capital distributions	329
a) Active shareholders and share repurchases	330
i) Functional background of share repurchases	330
(1) KMG.....	331
(2) Mirant.....	332
ii) Examples	332
iii) Means and limitations	333
b) Active shareholders and dividends	335
i) Functional background of dividends	336
ii) Example	338

iii) Means and limitations	338
c) Active shareholders' distribution preferences	340
3) Active shareholders and corporate leveraging	343
a) Functional background of leveraging	343
b) Example	344
c) Means and limitations	345
4) Means to facilitate capital structure amendments	346
5) Criticism relating to financial activism	348
a) Foregoing interesting projects	349
b) Reduction of R&D expenses	349
c) Short-termism	350
d) Opportunistic repurchases	353
III) Preliminary results on financial activism	355
1) Benefits	355
2) Shareholder means	356
3) Concerns	357
IV) Financial activism under German corporate law	357
1) Authority distribution regarding corporate financial decisions	357
2) Distributions	358
a) Financial activism example facilitation repurchase and dividend	358
b) Active shareholders and share repurchases	359
i) Functional background of share repurchases	360
ii) Means and limitations	361
(1) Means	361
(2) Limitations	362
c) Active shareholders and dividends	364
i) Functional background of dividends	364
ii) Means and limitations	366
(1) Legal frame for dividends	366
(2) Means	368
(3) Limitations on distribution volume	368
(4) Limitations on distribution key	369
d) Distribution preferences	370
3) Active shareholders and corporate leveraging	371
a) Functional background of incurring corporate debt	371
b) Means and limitations	372
c) Example	373
4) Means to pursue financial activism	375
5) Concerns related to financial activism	375
a) Forced to forego promising projects	375
b) Reduction of R&D costs	376
c) Short-termism	376
d) Distributions excluding fellow investors	381

V) Final thesis regarding financial activism	385
1) Facts and benefits	385
2) Applied shareholder means	386
3) Concerns and limitations	387
F) Conclusion	389
I) Summary and final thesis	389
II) How (active) shareholders should be dealt with	392
1) Independent of being targeted	392
2) Once targeted by active shareholders	393
3) Once active shareholders have decided for confrontation	394
III) Outlook	394