

Sylvie Mikowski (ed.)

IRELAND AND POPULAR CULTURE

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
SYLVIE MIKOWSKI
Introduction	I
DARRYL JONES
Dracula Goes to London	19
SANDRA MAYER
The Importance of Commemorating Literary Celebrity: Oscar Wilde and Contemporary Literary Memorial Culture	39
XAVIER GIUDICELLI
Dorian Gray in/and Popular Culture: Text, Image, Film	53
CLAIRE POINSOT
'Souls the like of ours/Are not precious to God as your soul is': Elite, Popular and Folk Culture in William Butler Yeats' Plays	69
ADRIENNE JANUS
Listening High and Low: Yeats, Joyce, Beckett and the Condition of Music in Modernist Irish Literature	83
YANNICK BELLENGER-MORVAN
C.S. Lewis: An Experiment in Popular Literature?	103
KEVIN WALLACE
'Fintan O'Toole: Power Plays' and the High Art/Low Art Discourse in the Narrative of Irish Theatre	115

CHANTAL DESSAINT-PAYARD

- What Happened To Anna K?* or the Dissemination of Cultures
in Fox, Swallow, Scarecrow by Éilís Ní Dhuibhne 129

FRÉDÉRIC ARMAO

- The Folklore of Spring in Ireland: A Dichotomy of Traditions 141

PÁDRAIC FREHAN

- National Self-Image: The Imagological Impact and Subsequent Contemporary Permeations of Celtic Mythology in Ireland's School Literature from 1924 157

VALÉRIE MORISSON

- From Hinde to Hillen: Postcards and the Issue of Authenticity
in Popular Culture 181

ALEXIA MARTIN

- The Carnsore Point Festival (1978–1981):
Between Antinuclear Rally and Cultural Event 199

STEPHEN BOYD

- Surfing a Postnationalist Wave:
The Role of Surfing in Irish Popular Culture 211

RUTH ALEXANDRA MORAN

- Please Say Something* (2009):
Digital Aesthetics and Popular Culture 227

- Notes on Contributors 243

- Index 247