PETER LANG

Romancing Theory, Riding Interpretation

(IN)FUSION APPROACH, SALMAN RUSHDIE

Edited by RANJAN GHOSH

Contents

1. Romancing Theory, Riding Interpretation 1
Ranjan Ghosh

Part A: Romancing Theory

2. Reception and/or (In)fusion: Interpretation and Literary Institutions in the 21st century 47
Philip Goldstein

3. Is (In)fusionism a Perspectivism or an Interactionism? 59
Stephen R Yarbrough

4. Hodos Infusion and Method 73
John W. P. Phillips

5. (In)fusing Moments of Transient Alignment into Diverse Communities of Understanding 89
John de Reuck and Jenny de Reuck

6. Green Infusion? 101
Timothy Clark

Part B: Riding Interpretation

7. Fractal T®opologies: (Re-)citation, (Mani-)folds, Alterity: (In)fusing Midnight's Children 115
Joseph Pugliese

8. (In)fusion and the 'Postcolonial': Salman Rushdie's Shame as Ethical-Political Fiction 132
Sara Upstone

9. The Satanic Verses as Secular Transcendence 149
Naheem Jabbar

10. The Moor's Last Sigh as Palimpstine, a Country of Fusions and Infusions 161
Allen Hibbard & Savitri Ashok

11. Singular Multiplicity: The Ground Beneath Her Feet 182
Juliette Taylor-Batty

12. Reading Fury as an Imperial Fiction..... 199
Neelam Srivastava

Contributors 213

Index 217