Ellen McNiven Hine

Constance de Salm, her influence and her circle in the aftermath of the French Revolution

"A Mind of No Common Order"

Currents in Comparative Romance Languages and Literatures

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS ix

INTRODUCTION 1

PART I

1. A LIFE IN CONTEXT: Setting the Historical Stage 13
   Life Story 18
   Personal Tragedy 20

2. SAPHO 25
   Madame De Staël 35

3. THE EARLY YEARS: Championing the Women's Cause 47
   Mary Wollstonecraft 57

4. THE ACCIDENTAL EULOGIST, OR THE SCIENTISTS' FRIEND: In Praise of the Astronomer Lalande 68
   Mary Somerville 86

PART II

5. NETWORKING AND PATRONAGE: CORRESPONDENT AND SALONNIERE EXTRAORDINAIRE: Correspondence: 101
A. Networking and Professional Development 102
B. Correspondence and the Woman Question 110
Salon: The Weekly Meetings of Her 'Fidèles' 115

6. RUSTICATION: BANISHMENT TO THE COUNTRY AND THE 'SIMPLE LIFE': Urban Is to Rustic as Paris Is to Dyck 126

PART III

7. AN EMPIRE WON AND LOST: THE NAPOLEONIC YEARS AND BEYOND: The Political Interests of a 'Non-Activist' Woman 141
Rapport Sur Un Ouvrage De Théremin 152
Opinion D'une Femme Sur Les Femmes 154

8. THE RESTORATION YEARS 163
Louise Colet 170

PART IV

9. TAKING STOCK: REMINISCENCES AND PREDICTIONS: Mes Soixante Ans 181
Looking Back: A. An Astute Observer of The Passing Scene 185
B. Solidarity and Sisterhood 190
C. Character and Self-Creation 193
Looking Forward: Fame, 'Genius,' and Legacy 200

CONCLUSION 217

References to unpublished letters in the collection of the Musée Du Vieux Toulon 229

Works By Constance-Marie De Théis, Mme Pipelet De Leury, Princesse De Salm-Reifferscheid-Dyck 235

Bibliography 237

Index 247